The NGO Committee on Mental Health

Affiliated with the Conference of Non-Governmental Organizations (CoNGO) in Consultative Relationship with the United Nations

Invitation to a discussion organized by the CMH Media/ICT and Mental Health Working Group and co-sponsored by Communications Coordination Committee for the United Nations (CCCUN)

"Utilizing Media to Promote Human Rights, Mental Health and Well-Being"

This program will explore media and technology strategies to empower citizens to cope with human rights violations and to promote justice, democracy, mental health and well-being, eliminate violence against women, and prevent forced evictions and displacements

Thursday, May 10, 2012
2:00-4:00 PM
U.N. Church Center
777 United Nations Plaza, New York, NY
44th Street and First Ave.
Hardin Room, 11th Floor

MODERATOR AND INTRODUCTORY REMARKS

Dr. Elizabeth Carll
Chair, NGO Committee on Mental Health (CMH); U.N. Representative, International Society for Traumatic Stress Studies;
Co-Convenor, CMH Media/ICT Working Group; President, CCCUN

KEYNOTE

Ambassador Carlos Enrique Garcia Gonzalez
Deputy Permanent Representative of El Salvador to the United Nations

PARTICIPANTS

Raja Althaibani
Middle East and North Africa Program Associate

WITNESS - International Human Rights Media Organization
Use of media to promote human rights and well-being

Jina Moore
Correspondent, Christian Science Monitor; contributor to Foreign Policy, Boston Review, PRI's The World (on NPR)
News coverage of Rwanda, Burundi, Congo, Liberia, Sierra Leone to promote human rights, well-being, and eliminate violence against women

Sean Southey
Executive Director, PCI Media Impact
Use of dramatic and creative entertainment media to promote health and eliminate violence against women and children, international projects in South America, Mexico, Caribbean, India

CLOSING REMARKS

Dr. Georgi Antar
Co-Convenor, Media/ICT Working Group, NGO Committee on Mental Health

GROUP DISCUSSION - AUDIENCE Q & A